Status in Canada / Statement of Income

PROTECTED B (when completed)

Complete this schedule, and attach it to your Form RC66, Canada Child Benefits Application, if you or your spouse or common-law partner:

- became a new resident or returned as a resident of Canada in the last two years;
- became a Canadian citizen in the last 12 months; or
- are, as defined in the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act, a permanent resident, protected person (refugee), or temporary resident who has lived in Canada for the previous 18 months.

Note

If your application includes a period that started more than 11 months ago, you must attach proof of your and your spouse's or common-law partner's status for that entire period.

For more information, go to www.cra.gc.ca/benefits or see Booklet T4114, Canada Child Benefits. To get our forms or publications, go to www.cra.gc.ca/forms or call 1-800-959-2221.

Part E - Statement of income You and your spouse or common-law partner must each file a Canadian tax return for the period after you became residents of Canada. If your spouse or common-law partner is a non-resident of Canada during any part of the year, you will have to complete Form CTB9, Canada Child Tax Benefit - Statement of Income, for each year or part of a year that he or she is a non-resident of Canada. Complete this part if you or your spouse or common-law partner became a new resident of Canada or returned as a resident of Canada. Enter all income in Canadian dollars from all sources inside and outside Canada. Do not include income that you or your spouse or common-law partner have reported on a Canadian tax return. Enter "0" if you had no income. Step 1 – Year you became resident of Canada Enter the year you became a resident of Canada. Enter your income from January 1 of that year to the date you became a resident. If you had a spouse or common-law partner, enter his or her income from January 1 of that year to the date he or she became a resident. Do not enter your spouse or common-law partner's income if he or she did not become a resident of Canada in the year indicated. Instead, you will need to report his or her income for this year on Form CTB9 early in the following year, when it is known. Year Your spouse or common-law Your income (dollars only): $ partner's income (dollars only): Step 2 - One year before you became resident of Canada Enter one year before the year that you indicated in Step 1, and enter your income and that of your spouse or common-law partner for that year. Year Your spouse or common-law Your income (dollars only): partner's income (dollars only): Step 3 – Two years before you became resident of Canada (Complete this step only if you became a resident of Canada before May of the year you entered in Step 1.) Enter the year that is two years before the year that you indicated in Step 1, and enter your income and that of your spouse or common-law partner for that year. Year Your spouse or common-law Your income (dollars only): $ $ partner's income (dollars only): Part F – Certification I certify that the information given on this form and in any documents attached is, to the best of my knowledge, correct.
